About This Game

Sword fight and free run with and against your friends in this team based online+couch arena brawler.

KEY FEATURES

- Fast paced Online Multiplayer
- Couch Multiplayer
- Designed for short sessions but beware, it's addictive!
- Ideal for any number of players

- 2 players - it's a duel
  - 4 players - it's a brawl
  - 6 players - it's a battle
  - 8 players - what's going on?
  - Well.. except for 1 player. But wait, what are public games for?
- Mix couch and online coop in any way you want. You can have any number of players playing from any number of PCs across the internet (well, up to 8 total)
  - Unlock new characters with achievements and show off your prowess with customized skin colors
  - Use items to kill, escape and distract your enemies
  - Every move is deadly. Really, this game is one hit -> one kill.
  - Walls are your friends. Climb any structure in the game as easily as just running
  - Such controls. Do you know of any game where you can jump downwards?
  - Hand painted, unique levels
  - Smart music reacting to the situation on map

So is it only fighting? Not really. Use your fighting skills in additional game modes like Treasure Hunt and Artifact.

Treasure Hunt mode

Quite straightforward. Coins are laying around the arena, and you need to get them to your base before the enemy team does.
Or... hunt enemy players carrying those coins.

Artifact mode

Something new you've never experienced before. It goes like this:

- There's an artifact levitating in the center of map.
- Your goal is to take the artifact to your base to expand it.
- The artifact is attracted to your team if you feed it the souls of your enemies. Guess how to obtain those souls...
- You have to cooperate as all of your team has to work together to control the artifact.

Confused? Just try it out. It's easy once you play it.

34????? ????... ?? ??? ? ? ? ? , ??? ??? ? ? ????.. A simple and easy to use program. It is not the best animation software in the universe, it has its flaws, but it's totally worth the price.. I had many doubts about purchasing Fancy Skiing, as the game seems to be very sickening in videos (also very fun!); in general I find that quality software need to be inclusive. I must say that on this side, the game is pretty good: the comfort is similar to a cockpit game, here it lacks a reference frame but also miss any rotation of the screen (the most toxic movement in VR, who comes from DK1-2 knows) so there are only three-axis acceleration but no rotation. The fact you need to move a lot is also good, because your balance is not 100% on the vection side (it's also nice as a workout). Basically, if the slightest movement is nauseating maybe you can't play with Fancy Skiing, but you don't need an iron stomach to be able to play, I'll rate just a bit less comfortable than Hover Junker but way more comfortable than any FPS kind of locomotion. Sorry for the long description with my crappy english, but I would like to get those information before buy so I hope could be helpful for someone.

As a game, it's not very polished at the moment (just out from a day o two) and it's one of smaller download I've ever seen, almost 80MB, so don't expect ton of contents or surprising graphics. Anyway it's fun, I mean real fun, you move your stick to gain speed and it's just stunning how natural it feels. For turning, it's a bit weird because the game use your head's inclination: in real world, the centrifugal force make you lean without falling, but here (if you want to play stand, as I suppose it's more fun and real) you're forced to open a lot your legs for stay in balance. With some practice you can achieve to manage it, but controls in general need some works, they're a bit too rough.

The game don't own (at the moment at least) torunaments, tracks or any kind of variation. But, for what I saw, it offer a single track with an increasing difficulty. So, like a good old coinop, it's focused on super short sessions (it's game over in minutes) where you learn how to progress with trials and errors. I like this way more than usual endless/random waves (in this case, waves of obsacles) because actually you can progress in it. I've not play the game enough to say about how long it is, or how challenging it is, I hope it's a good mix between being too easy, crazy difficult and short. Anyway, being a brand new experience for Vive users, it worth his price just for be able to ski in VR.. I miss popcap. 10/10 made with love

1.99$ well spent. Awesome level select. Interesting gameplay that changes with levels and cool jumpscars. What else do you need? nothing!!!!. My DLC Is not working it says installied but it is not showering in my stelliaris luncher.cn someone help. I am dissapointed to hear that the multiplayer is shut down, but the single player campaign is epic. It has really intense and sustained combat. Also, a ton of different vehicles, drones, rc cars and helis. This old game still kicks a lot of newer shooters asses. reaaalllly worth the sale price... but get it on sale. The campaign is rather short. I've had this game since it was orriginally released but the updates don't work anymore since it became a steam title. I had no problem buying it again. I guess my disk is a beer coaster now.. Best pack for value :)
